

There's Help for Troubled Skin

Dry, prickly skin is an uncomfortable fact of life for many people. Trying to figure out what the causes are and how to avoid them can make life difficult for adults and children with sensitive skin.

And it's hard to find a good remedy, as many either don't work or contain ingredients you'd probably rather not put on your skin like petrolatum, parabens, or propylene glycol.

Fortunately, there's effective, safe, completely natural help for your skin. It's called Execlear™, and it's made from a special strain of powdered, sterilized Lactobacillus acidophilus — the same healthy bacteria found in yogurt.*

Sound Familiar?

If you have sensitive skin, all kinds of things can cause dryness and discomfort. What bothers your skin varies from person to person, but the list of possibilities includes:

- Soaps and detergents
- Shampoos and dish-washing liquids
- Bubble bath
- Disinfectants like chlorine
- Contact with juices from fresh fruits, vegetables, and meat
- Hot or cold temperatures
- Stress
- Hormones

Being vigilant is the best first line of defense, but it can be hard to avoid everything that can prompt discomfort 100 percent of the time. Luckily, there's Execlar™!

Introducing Execlar™

Execlar supports healthy skin from the inside out. It is made with L-92 — a patented, sterilized strain of L. acidophilus bacteria that has been shown in placebo-controlled human studies of both adults and children with temporarily irritated skin to:

- Soothe dry, sensitive skin*
- Improve appearance of skin.*

About Lactic Acid Bacteria?

Lactic acid bacteria are a well-studied group of friendly bacteria. Lactobacillus acidophilus is the best known. If the name sounds familiar, that's probably because you've read it on the side of a yogurt container. Lactic acid bacteria, which occur naturally in the human gut, are also used as a starter in many fermented foods such as butter, cheese, kefir, yogurt, sauerkraut, and wine. These bacteria have been extensively tested for safety in human subjects.

About L-92

L-92 is a patented powder made from sterilized L. acidophilus cells. It works by bringing chemical messengers of the immune system called cytokines into the right balance, thus promoting healthy skin.*
